

Report on workshop entitled “Mushroom Cultivation Technique” Organized by Department of Botany, MBB College

A three days workshop on mushroom cultivation technique was organized by Department of Botany, MBB College and was held on. Rahul Saha, JPF from Mycology and Plant Pathology Divisions, Department of Botany, Tripura University was invited as resource person of this workshop. Total thirty one students of different departments of MBB College were actively participated in this workshop. First day of the workshop was featured by Inaugural session and exchange of views between participants and faculty members of the department. Second day of the workshop comprehensively emphasized on the various aspects of hands on training of mushroom cultivation technique especially different varieties of Pleurotus sp which was accompanied by a presentation. On the last day of the workshop resource person demonstrated harvesting and storage techniques of the fruit body of mushrooms to the participants. This was followed by the valedictory session, presided over by the Dr. Dipannita Chakraborty Principal, MBB College,

